

ABSTRACT

Erushes rights ensures that only the right content reaches the correct legally allowed buyers. It gives content owners control over who buys their footage, by matching the right buyers with the right content rights. It's a simple idea, but aims to stop problems before they start, and not frustrate buyers with tempting them with content they are not able to buy.